PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Volume 5, Issue 37

PRINCIPAL ELANOR joined us on May 24, 2018. Her first order was to grant her whole class free dress for the day. Here's an interview with the Principal-for-the-Day.

Ms. Elanor's favorite thing to do in the summer is go on trips. Her favorite books are Dr. Seuss books. Science is her favorite subject because "it is fun to do the experiments.... I really enjoyed learning about surface tension and putting drops of water on a penny."

Ms. Elanor likes to play Sharks and Minnows at recess with Maya, Allie, Diego and Lauren where one person is the shark, grass is the land, and the asphalt is the water. You have to run to the land without getting tagged by the shark.

Ms. Elanor says the nice teachers are what make ICRS special. In fact, both principals showed staff appreciation with goodies and kind notes.

The principals (and one classmate) enjoyed lunch and dessert off campus. Principal Elanor granted an extra recess for her classmates, and provided each friend an Otter Pop (compliments of Mrs. Moa-Walsh). At the end of the day Principal Elanor wished the student body a wonderful day over the PA system. Thank you Principal Elanor for assisting for the day.

(Principal-for-the-Day was a silent auction item. Watch for it at the Big Blue on Feb. 23)

Jun1 LIBRARY BOOKS DUE.

TELL A FRIEND. We still have room available for new students in most grades. I'd love to give you a $200 finders fee. See the handbook for more information.

FALL COACHES NEEDED. Coaches do more than volunteer at ICRS. They shape young lives, promote team spirit, develop skills, and build confidence. This year we say a final thank you to two exceptional coaches. Coach Cram who whose youngest daughter is graduating, and Coach Cowan who is switching hats to lead our Liturgical Choir next year. This means we need a 7th/8th girls volley ball coach and a cross country coach for next fall. Please send an email to vanselus@icrsweb.org if you would like to coach, or for more information.
